- b) Family functioning, parenting and Pro-social functioning (Human Capital)
- c) Education to potential
- d) Reduction of toxic factors
 - i Biological factors
 - ii Psychological and social factors

[1 a] Safety, housing, food, welfare

MHYFVic advocates that all families should receive housing and universal basic income support sufficient to ensure they are above the minimum requirements outlined by the Social Policy Research Centre of UNSW (or equivalent authority).

MHYFVic advocates that the Australian Institute of health and Welfare implements a process of identifying welfare indicators, setting goals, measuring outcomes and reporting results to inform remediation of welfare services.
